

MAILES DEFEAT LEAGUE IN BEST SOCKER FIVE HUNDRED GAME OF THE ENTIRE SEASON BUYS FRANCHISE

The hundred or so people who visited the ball park Saturday afternoon to see the Mailes hook up with the Rest of the League eleven, certainly got their money's worth.

The game, which was far and away the best played here this season, was a fine exhibition of Association football as it should be played. It was the kind of game which, if more frequent, would quickly popularize soccer in Honolulu. Even the small boys on the fence grew enthusiastic.

The Rest had the ball in the enemy's territory during the greater part of the game, although the Mailes won by the score of 2 goals to nil. One of these goals was scored soon after the start and the other was secured from a penalty kick.

The Mailes by winning set the seal on their season's fame. They made far better use of their opportunities than did their opponents and the play of their backs was a treat to witness. There isn't a pair of backs in the league that can touch McGill and Anderson. Stanley Beardmore is better than either as an individual player but he has to shine by himself on account of lack of a partner of his own caliber. Percy Morse is about the only local player who has successfully and consistently defied McGill and Anderson. He had a method all his own but which was wonderfully effective. He would run up close, kick the ball fairly hard and then rush past the backs. His speed helped him out in this maneuver, for before the backs had turned to attend to the ball, Morse had them beaten.

The Rest of the League wore white uniforms, and the Mailes donned their familiar green and gold. Neither Robert nor Jack Catton were able to play yesterday for the whites and Churton and Hickman filled their places on the forward line. Another reserve on this side was Half-back J. Anderson who played vice, Eddie Deesha. Mon Yin would have substituted for Desha had he been on the ground a few minutes sooner.

The only change in the Mailes' team as advertised was that Foster Davis filled Fred Bailey's position as a forward, the latter being indisposed. J. L. Cockburn refereed and J. H. Fiddes and H. Bailey were the linesmen.

At 3:50 p. m. the eleven took the field, lining up as follows:

Rest of the League—Colors, white. Goal, Dixon; backs, Stanley Beardmore, Macconel (capt.); half-backs, J. Anderson, J. Clarke, E. Grune; forwards, Hickman, Churton, Woo, Fernandez, Oss.

Mailes—Goal, J. J. Belser; backs, J. C. McGill, E. Anderson; half-backs, E. Kellett, D. Center, R. Chillingworth; forwards, H. S. Gray (capt.), W. Jamieson, J. Catterall, F. Davis, E. Kea.

The above line up is remarkable in that it doesn't contain a weak player. Six of the eleven were Diamond Head men.

THE FIRST HALF.

Macconel won the toss and the whites kicked off from the mauka end of the ground. The ball was soon forced into Maile territory.

Gill got away with the ball which was rushed down the field, Gray saying a shot which proved to be successful. This was about four minutes from the start. Goalkeeper Dixon cleared poorly, practically knocking the ball onto an opponent's foot.

Soon after the kick-off, the whites got within striking distance but nothing resulted. Both sides were playing well. Catterall's fine footwork and shift dodging, in particular evoking applause.

The whites continued to have the best of the play; all they lacked was combination, particularly on the right wing.

Hickman sent in a feeble shot from Oss' fine center which should have been scored from. Shortly afterward Belser cleverly cleared a hot shot by Woo.

The whites managed to net the ball but the goal was ruled off-side. Ender shot and again Belser saved. Presently Fernandez had another chance to score but made a mess of it, falling down on an easy shot.

The Mailes pressed and Johnny Clarke saved a dangerous situation.

Another shot was barely saved by Dixon who, so far, had not appeared at his best. Another shot by a Maile man, however, was nobly punched by the whites' custodian, the ball going nearly half the length of the field.

Whites got in front of the Mailes' goal, and Hickman attempted to score off Woo's pass. On the next play Hickman narrowly escaped heading the ball into the net, McGill interposing in the nick of time. Oss next took a shot off Woo's pass but nothing came of it.

At this stage of the game Catterall forgot himself and "hands" was given against him. J. Anderson was much in evidence hereabouts, and was playing in something like his old time form. Churton, on the contrary, was decidedly off color, appearing to be unusually slow.

Woo missed a soft chance to notch a goal and the half-time whistle sounded with the ball in S. Beardmore's possession, the score being Maile, 1; The Rest, 0.

SECOND HALF.

On the resumption of hostilities

Jamieson, was soon given a chance to distinguish himself, but the ball struck the cross-bar.

Woo, by nice work, was chiefly instrumental in taking the ball down to the Mailes' goal.

The Mailes were playing together magnificently and were seen to better advantage than at any time this season. The reason probably was that this was the first time the team had, to use a racing term, been extended.

Macconel threw the ball in foul and McGill kicked it from the side-line well up to the whites' goal.

So far the Mailes had done the most telling work in this half.

Gray sent in a nice shot and a corner resulted. It looked as if the Mailes were going to score again but nothing came of Chillingworth's shot.

The scene of activity was speedily transferred to the other end of the field and the whites got a corner. Churton took the kick and placed the ball beautifully but there was no one handy enough to boot it under the bar.

The sphere was once more in the whites' domain and Gray took a shot which went wild. A melee in front of the whites' goal resulted in Dixon having his hands full.

A penalty kick for rough play was awarded the Mailes and Jamieson shot hard and diagonally. The ball struck the cross-bar, glanced off and entered the goal mouth, making the score 2 goals to nil in favor of the champions.

Beardmore was temporarily laid out at this juncture of the contest.

A free kick was awarded the whites on account of a foul throw in by the Mailes. A scrimmage in front of the Mailes' goal would probably have resulted in the latter being scored against had not McGill saved the day.

Hickman put in an indifferent shot, being in too great a hurry.

Mailes romped down the field and a dangerous shot was neatly punched out by Dixon.

Whites rallied strongly and Churton shot well but a wee bit too high. Another wild shot at the Mailes' goal quickly followed and then Churton had another chance but again sent the ball skimming over the bar.

Catterall was temporarily winded. Woo next tried his foot at goal but was too excited to do anything. Robert Anderson then carried the ball almost to the half-way line.

Whites came back stronger than ever and several wild shots ensued. Churton and Woo being the principal offenders.

A corner was given against the Mailes and Oss kicked. Macconel immediately had a chance to score but kicked the ball as high as the gilt-bell on the flag-staff.

The Mailes were forcing the ball toward the whites' when the final whistle blew and the last game of the soccer season of 1906-7 ended with the score: Mailes, 2; The Rest, 0.

So exhausted were the players after the game that they had hardly enough breath left to give the customary cheers.

SPORTLETS

In the unlikely event of a Diamond Head walker winning the half-mile run or the shot-put at the coming athletic meeting, it will be in order for other clubs to start an agitation for the abolishment of these events from the local sports program.

They experience no difficulty in judging walking contests in England, Australia and New Zealand.

Walking, as an ideal form of exercise, deserves recognition as a track event and there is a warm sentiment in the States in favor of re-establishing it in its old place in the list of events governed by the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union.

On account of the recent rains the work on the Country Club premises has been considerably set back and possession will be out of the question until the merry month of May.

The water championship between the Myrtle and Healan Swimming Clubs will be decided on a basis of points similar to that obtaining at the championship field and track meet.

The Honolulu baseball nine may change their name to the St. Louis nine. Pat Gleason, an old St. Louis boy, is prime mover in agitating the change. As the Honolulu Athletic Club is defunct it would seem that the idea is a good one.

Pitcher Joy is hanging out for more money, or expenses when his team plays at home. The San Francisco club wants him to sign for two years. This he objects to, and rightly. The club is wise to his quality and should he make good would have no difficulty in selling him at a big profit.

The field day committee meets at the Y. M. C. A. at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

The demand for En Sue seems to have died out. He was to have re-

Among the rumors of chops and changes in the senior baseball league is one to the effect that Harry Bruns, manager of the Mailes, has written to Major Van Vleet, suggesting that the Tenth Infantry take the Mailes' place in the league for the coming season.

The Oahu's interest in the league is now valued at $500, as against $1200 demanded for a franchise by the Mailes three years ago.

The Diamond Heads are willing to pay $500 for the Oahu's interest in the league, but the laws of the league provide that if one club wants to sell out the other league clubs shall have the first option of purchase.

The Oahu are ready to sell and the Diamond Heads to buy. All that remains is for the league to sanction the transaction.

The Diamond Heads, figuring on the receipts of the last two seasons, have decided that if they pay $500 for the Oahu's franchise, they will about break even in the deal by the time the lease of the ground expires, six years from now.

PROSPECTS FOR PUNAHOU NINE

The prospects of the Punahou baseball nine for the coming season are very uncertain.

F. E. Steere is said to be in favor of the club selling out its franchise to the Rapid Transits.

The club will lose the services this year of Johnny Williams, who will play with the Honolulu; George Desha, who has gone to Hilo, Bill Meyers, Jess Woods and Major Van Vleet.

Eddie Desha declares that he won't pitch this season and wishes to perform in the out-field, where he is likely to shine.

The club will be hard up for a catcher and Bob McCormiston may again officiate in that position; Bob wouldn't feel at home if he didn't get his head broken and two or three fingers smashed during the season.

Jack Desha will be available this season, however, and Alfred Castle, the Harvard pitcher, will be here, accompanied by the first and third basemen, and probably another member of the Harvard nine, all of whom are likely to assist the Punahous, during a portion of the season at least.

The nine will have to get a new captain this year to fill George Desha's place.

They received $30 a month and expenses when playing away from San Francisco. When Joy's contract arrived it was unaccompanied by one for the Honolulu's third baseman.

The San Francisco Club wrote to Joy and asked him to recommend a good pitcher and catcher. Acting on expert advice Joy replied that he was the only good pitcher here and that high-class catchers were rare to the verge of extinction.

There will be a meeting of the Honolulu Baseball League on Wednesday, at 1 p. m.

Hawaiian Swimming Club's entertainment at the Baths next Saturday, ladies' night.

The newly-elected officers of the Pacific Tennis Club are as follows: J. P. Cooke, president; Harold Dillingham, vice president; G. P. Cooke, secretary-treasurer; R. D. Mead, manager.

The Pacific Tennis Club may set aside a day in the week when the courts shall be used exclusively by ladies.

No golf matches today.

Next Saturday will see a hotel golf tourney at Halewa.

Aloha, soccer.

Bookmaker Joe Rose may make a vacation trip to Hawaii; that is, if he satisfied himself that he'll be allowed to land.

Hilo is to have a return soccer game by the same eleven that played on New Year's Day.

The Chinese Athletic Club should be able to put a good soccer team in the field. Woo, Mon Yin, En Sue and Lo On would form a very useful nucleus.

The soccer season closes with 54 goals scored, all told.

A number of improvements have been made lately in the condition of the Y. M. C. A. tennis courts, and the members are resuming an interest in the game. Further improvements, which will make these courts equal to any in the city, will be made at once.

DELIGHTED SIGHTSEERS

His excursion trip to the volcano with its express in this manner their thanks to Mr. Kennedy for his kindness and consideration in enabling them to witness one of the greatest wonders of the Hawaiian Islands.

His efforts to find an accessible landing place and his excellent care of the passengers were highly appreciated, and they can not recommend too highly the services of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co.'s officers and assistants.

OTHER EXCURSIONS PLANNED

The success which has attended these excursions has led to the booking of many passengers for any further excursion that may be arranged by the Inter-Island company. Provided the flow continues and enough are booked to justify it the kinau will be sent out on another special trip on Saturday next, repeating the last excursion.

COURT ITEMS.

A jury was called before Judge De Boit yesterday to try Julia Noar's assault suit against Lee Chu et al., but jury was waived by the attorneys and the trial went on without one. C. W. Ashford and Sam. Noar appeared for plaintiff, and J. Alfred Magoon for defendants.

Walter C. Peacock answers the complaint of Henry May & Co., Ltd., with a blanket denial of allegations and a statement that he will rely for defense on the plea of want of consideration.

Messrs. Davis and Chillingworth have filed exceptions to the verdict for defendant in the $5000 damage suit of Olo against Oahu Railway & Land Co.

C. W. Ashford moves for leave to amend complaint in the fishery right case of Kapiolani Estate, Ltd., v. Territory of Hawaii.

Judge Lindsay appointed W. R. Castle administrator of the estate of Mary Ann Pa under a $5000 bond.

Schools and Alumni Fuse

It was stated last night that the Kamehameha Schools and Kamehameha Alumni athletic teams would combine as an entrant for the coming championship athletic meet.

Last year the alumni competed separately, scoring a total of five points. And getting 5 points in the walk, Nahale one point in the 440 yards' run and Nahale one point in the hammer throw.

This year McCandleless, the strongest point-getter of last year's Kamehameha Schools' team, is a member of the Alumni, and as the Schools have not developed anything like nearly as good an all-around athlete as he is fact has undoubtedly had much to do with the combining of the two teams.

A member of the Kamehameha Alumni said last night that the alumni would stand all expenses of the Schools' athletes in training for the coming meet and that they would be entered under the alumni's name.

He said that the idea of this was to cement feeling between the scholars and the alumni.

Puunene Has Lively Shoot

WAILUKU, January 18.—There was a meeting of the crack marksmen of the island at Puunene last Sunday, in which the best shots of Kihel, Makawao and Wailuku participated.

Some excellent shooting was done by the home team and Makawao. Kihel did not do so well as usual, and Wailuku was not equal to the older teams, but is fast becoming a good team.

During the day W. W. Wescott made the best record, breaking nineteen out of twenty blue rocks. There were several who made nearly as good records.

Of those who shot unusually well were W. W. Wescott, George Keeney, Ed. Peck, Dr. Geo. S. Allen, W. Lougher, Ed. Keeney, F. A. Mayfield and Arthur Betts.

In a shot by teams, Wailuku-Makawao won first prize, while Kihel and Puunene tied. A number of prizes were given and won by the different teams.

SEND FOR MY MARKET LETTER

You probably know that Goldfield, Nevada, is the greatest mining camp the world has ever known. One mine, the Mohawk, produced $2,000,000 in 106 days. I advised everybody to buy it at $1 a share. It has since sold up to $20. Fortunes have been made in the Goldfield stocks. In the next few months we are going to see a greater boom than ever and more fortunes will be made. To know what is doing you will have to read my market letter. I get my information direct from my Goldfield office. One customer of mine made $15,000 in three months. You can do as well if you have the right information. Send me your name and address and I will advise you. It costs you nothing. Address:

YOUNG OFFENDERS RECEIVE SENTENCES

Nine boys, ranging in age from ten to twenty years, appeared in the prisoner's box at the police court yesterday morning. All were charged with larceny in the second degree, the clerk's table being piled up with a miscellaneous collection of goods ready to be produced in evidence against them. All elected to plead guilty, however, and tearfully received their sentences. Alfred Freitas, Frank Gomez and Abraham Lincoln Buckley got six months apiece on each of four charges, being committed to the Reform school. Kalamul and Pulu Akaka, the oldest of the boys up, who had burglarized a Chinese store and made away with some Kalakaua coins, were given thirteen months suspended sentences, the Chinaman expressing a desire not to prosecute. Camilo Machado, who had graced the dock last week for throwing stones at an old Chinese woman, and who was found to be implicated to a certain extent in the larceny cases, was sentenced to the Reform school for a year but released on eight weeks' probation. Judge Whitney warning the boy to keep along the straight and narrow way hereafter or to expect serious trouble.

Jim Vierra and K. Nagata, to whom some of the plunder of the petty larcenists had been traced, appeared as receivers of stolen goods, their cases going over until Wednesday.

Sato, the Japanese arrested for cruelty to animals, having been caught driving a badly crippled horse, was soaked to the extent of $15, a sentence which drove the grin from his face very effectually. Prior to the passing of the sentence Sato seemed to regard the matter as a sort of a joke.

Wong Fui, the Chinaman who had violated the Sabbath by selling twenty-five cents worth of cambric, made little profit on the deal after he had paid the fine of $15 requested from him. He made no attempt to excuse himself before the judge, pleading guilty and getting out of the court room as soon as he could settle with the clerk.

The calendar contained a list of nine drunks, two of whom preferred to forfeit their $5 ball rather than to appear. Of the others, one was discharged, four fined $3 apiece and two given short jail sentences. Jose Figueroa, without visible means of support, will eat at the county's expense during the next month.

Young Koo was remanded until Wednesday. He is charged with trying to open up a native with a can-opener at the fishmarket on Saturday last.

During the examination of the three boys who are sentenced to the reform school it was brought out that an attempt was made to rob the New England bakery just prior to the sailing of the last Alameda, on which the boys had expected to make their way to the Coast. The boys had been frequent visitors to the shop and restaurant and had become wise to the fact that a canvas bag, containing an amount of small silver, was kept outside of the cash register and it was this bag of nickels that they wanted. A short time ago the bakery was entered at night, but the intruders got nothing for their trouble. At the time it was suspected that boys had been the offenders, for the chairs and tables had been upset, the table dishes thrown around and their contents, salt, sugar, sauces and spices, made into a glorious potpourri.

As long as the investigation during and before the trial was kept up new features to the case were presented and a lot of information secured of petty robberies extending back for some time. So many varied were the cases that little Abraham Lincoln grew weary of giving the details, informing Chief Taylor that if he wouldn't bother him any more he would go before the court and plead guilty to anything and everything.

MORE BOY THIEVES AND A JAP FENCE CAPTURED

No sooner has Judge Whitney cleared the calendar of one bunch of bad boys than the police bring in another batch, to the great distraction of Turn-key Melanphy and his assistants. Yesterday a roundup was made of ten youngsters implicated in a number of lead pipe robberies, the pipes and brass fittings being chopped out of a number of vacant houses. And, what is more important, the police have captured the man to whom the boys claim they have been in the habit of selling their stolen goods.

Mishima, a Japanese, is booked on two charges of receiving goods knowing them to have been stolen, the boys of the lead pipe gang being Jos. Kaul, John Martin, Geo. Rosa, Allen Cunha, Christiano Martin, John Rowe, Tommy Rowe, Antone Martin, Lui Freitas, William Kalamul, all booked for larceny in the second degree. After the first fright of the arrest wore off the boys settled down to a singsong, making the early hours of the night ring with "God be with you till we meet again."

As was the case with the other juvenile cases of larceny, as soon as one or two of the boys had been captured they began giving information which brought them companions in their misery. The boys have been operating principally in the neighborhood of School street, the old Normal school building being completely stripped of roof metal, piping and brass fittings. Even the lead window weights have been picked off and sold, according to the confessions of the boys, to Mishima, who runs a second hand store on Emma street and who took all that was brought him without asking questions.

An evening paper mentions Bernard Kelekele and Harry Murray of Honolulu and W. K. Lyman of Hilo as candidates for clerk of the Senate. With a field to divide his opposition, Wilfrid Savage would have all the more certainty of election—if there is any doubt of that in any case—but perhaps the two above mentioned are only after the assistant clerkship. Savage has the great advantage of satisfactory service for two periods.

WAYS OF REACHING THE STUPENDOUS SCENE

There are several ways of seeing the flow and you may travel light by either route.

Taking the Kinau to Kawaihae a small party may get accommodations in the launch and arrive at Kailua at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. If they are in a hurry to get back they will have no trouble to get a liverman to take them to the flow that afternoon and he will get them to the hot lava in nine hours. A stay of twelve hours, giving visitors a view both day and night, may be had before starting on the return trip. Arriving in Kailua by 9:30 Friday morning they will get the launch back to Kawaihae in time to connect with the Kinau late in the afternoon. The road along through Kona is like a floor and the weather is apt to be good. The fare in the launch will be five dollars for each person each way and if there is more than one for the carriage the fare will be fifteen dollars for each person for the round trip. Parties must provide themselves with lunch, water and blankets.

Another route is by the Mauna Loa to Kailua or Napoopoo. At the latter place carriages are to be had. Mr. Gaspar will take parties of three and keep them from steamer to steamer, that is, he will meet them at the landing on arrival of the steamer, and take them to rooms and carry them in to the flow and back to the steamer, in all covering four days for twenty dollars each.

Or they may go to Hilo, thence to the Kau side via the Volcano House and Waiohinu. From the latter place there is a little walking to do and possibly the scene is not so inspiring as the view from the Kona side. If the first flow, that over the old 1887 flow, is dead as is reported from the Kau side by some and denied by others, there is not as much to be seen but there is sufficient for anyone who does not want the earth. The overland ride is in favor of the Kona route by about twenty miles and the trip can be made in shorter time provided the weather is good enough for the launch to go across.

Another way is to leave the Kinau at Kawaihae and go to Waimea by stage. At that place Mr. Vredenburg, if arrangements have been already made, will meet the party and take them in his auto direct to the flow. This is a pleasant trip and the fare for the journey is not exorbitant.

There are good stopping places in Kona and, if the trip is not to be continuous, stopovers may be taken at Hualaloa or Kealahou, either place having splendid accommodations.

Persons who will be satisfied with viewing the flow from the deck of a steamer and who have no desire to go direct to it can not do better than take the Mauna Loa. During the night the steamer will cruise off and on, and the passengers will have a fine view of the fire.

A HABIT TO BE ENCOURAGED.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and when given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.
